tiac Tragedy-The Supposed Murderer Arrested. Intelligence reached this city yesterday that colored man named Robert Morrison, but it possession of numerous alians, has been arrested at Whitewater, Wisconsin, and is now it the Walworth County Jail at Elkhorn, charged with the rape and murder of a young woman, a domestic named Ann Murphy, who was brutally ravished and murdered on the prairie near the line of the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis B. The tragedy excited the utmost sensation The tragedy excited the utmost sensation at the time it occurred in November last, on the first day of that month, we believe. Decessed was living in a family, had gone on foot four miles down the railroad track to visit friends, and was returning near dusk, when she was met by a man who recalls her appearance dis-tinctly. A little farther on he met this colored man following the girl. It has since transpired that Morrisson was running away from Bloom-ington, where he had been guitty of a bruta outrage upon an old man of his own color. The unfortunate girl was never seen again

THE CITY HOSPITAL. intimate acquaintance with many members of the medical faculty, I have become convinced that their daily gifts to the indigent, and their frevent loases by dishonest defaulters deprive them, as a general thing of the pecuniary ability to execute the enlarged schemes of public bene-faction which their philanthrophy induces them to devise.

quire by what means, present or prespective, those few members of the profession are to equip and operate the city hospital edifice-since the expense has been deemed too great to Leaving out of the reckening munificent do-nations which seldom come unheeded, we think one of the three following sources must supply the necessary funds.

First—the private purses of the applicants.

Or, secondly—by some sharp manocurre in wording the contract, a large amount of expenses not distingtla mentioned, may be brought in under the head of "incidental, not otherwise provided for," and thus the tax-payers may have to foot the bill in the end.

Or, hastly—the manner. have to foot the bill in the end.

Or, fastly—the money may come in part from the city, in the payment of three dollars each per week for her indigent patients, and the balance from patients able to pay their own bills at rates varying from five to twenty dollars per week.

week.
However long they may be, indiridual purses cannot be expected to achieve what the city has deemed itself unable to accomplish. Therefore we must seek some other source than this. The second mode mentioned is untenable, inasmuch as to suppose otherwise would imply either step-jied dullness or conniving dishoneetly on the part of the authorities, who would thus be im-posing upon the treasure, under onion of reliev. osing upon the treasury under guise of relieving it therefrom, a burden which they have here tofore refused to assume.

Hence, we come lastly to the consideration of the third or prospective source which we shall find adexuate to the emergency. If, according to "Philosopher" Greeley, "the person is now living who will see Chicago containing 1,00,000 inhabitants," it must be appressed. inhabitants," it must be apparent that the in-crease must be not only immense and constant, but begin at once.

Under this riew, is it too much to suppose a well conducted hospital here to be peopled by patients ranging from one to five hundred—say averaging two hundred? By examination of

be proportionably less, and the profit in the same rates increased.

Without wishing to be obtrusive, I would simply ask why this favor should be conferred upon these few men, some of whom already oc-cupy paying positions in similar institutions, while offers of gratuitous medical and surgical strondance by commistent men have herefolore mystery, by which term the case has come to be widely known.

The decision was delivered in the Supreme Court at Ottaws on Tuesday, by Judge Caton. It is of some length; no copy of it has yet been received in this city. We learn, however, that the two mains and almost the sole points on received in the two main, and almost the sole points on which the new trial has been granted, are: 1st. That the Court below, the Circuit Court of Cook County, improperly allowed the proof of the handwriting of Sophie Werner to be established by comparison. It will be remembered that a letter made some figure in the trial produced by Jumperiz before his arrest, and both before and after of importance if genuine, as purporting to have been written by Sophie Werner to himself, and showing her desponding and desperate state of mind. The prosecution took the position that the letter was forged, and produced a receipt known to be in Sophie's handwriting, to establish their position. 2nd. The separation of the jurors during the trial, as in allowing one of them to go to his trial, as in allowing one of them to go to his bouse, and to pass from the sight and bearing of the officer; and so of other instances of similar bearing in the course of the trial. The decision condemns the practice of allow-ing physical esidence though without making it in this case one of the grounds for the new trial. All familiar with the Junearit trial will remember All familiar with the Jumperts trial will ren ber the testing of the door and serew hooks by and before the jury which is thus referred to. MRS. PROGRESS OF THE SLAVE TRADE.

The acquittal of the captain of the slaver

Florida, was the only event wanting to establish the fact that the laws of the United States ullity-the most defunct of dead-letter When the Charleston Grand Jury, or a major-ity of them, who found an indictment against the owners and officers of the Wanderer, came out with a eard declaring that their said indictment was found upon compulsion of the Judge, and not upon their own construction of the law or their own notions of right in the premises, it was palpable to a degree, that no punishment could be brought home upon importers and dealers in African slaves, ough the instrumentality of Southern Courts, The truth of the homely motto, "Where there is a will there is a way," has never been morjuries striving to find those men not guilty of any crime, whom the law for species of evidence so strong, no form of words so clear, no set so unequivocal, that it will run the gauntlet of a South Carolina or Florida Court without being pulverized by the ruling of the Judge or brought to naught by the porverseness of the jury. The Prosecuting Attorney may as well parade his facts and ex pound his law before the Congo chiefs who thrive He stands far worse than the single juryment he always has twelve predetermined antagoaists in the jury box, besides one on the bench What shall be said of a judge who fules ou admissable is the register itself, which cannot be removed from the Custom House? Yet this was done by the Key West Court in the case of Captain Townsend of the Echo. Though the register declared Townsend to be the owne ter of the vessel, and though both vesse and cargo were found in his hands, yet theor nsend was not the owner, he had nothing to do with the negroes, the vessel was not

Obviously two things are needed if we intend to suppress the Trade: First, the Executive power of the United States must be vested in hands which will employ it to some purpose—which will destroy it at once, instead of toying with it like a piece of contraband crockery too valunble to be smashed. Second, the laws for th to meet if possible the surprising ingenuity of thern judges and juries in frustrating the Until these things are done we may expect the African Slave Trade to grow and flourish under the guns of the Navy and under the

PRAYERS ALL AROUND. France to supplicating the "God of battles" that kustria may be defeated, and that the arms of the Allies may prevail. The poor old Pope hommed up and hedged around in the Vaticar hemmed up and hedged around in the Vatican by bayoness that fill him with mortal fear, and from which he sees no escape, is counting his beads and numbling pelitions to the Almighty for the restoration of peace. Here now is a triangular contest, which, though not historically new, is a surprise to all who beheld it; and already Protestant heretics and schismatics are wondering which of the trio will earry the about large trees and beds of rare flowers. Fountains render the air deliciously cool and Creator can be determined. Seriously: when men or nations engage i the disreputable business of cutting each other's throats, piercing each other through with bayonets, burning each other's houses, sacking each other's towns, and perpetrating generally each of the distinct diabolisms of butchery are ridiculously out of place. It is the boast of Christianity that it teaches and enforces peace; it is its glory that it heralds good works and mercy. What mockery, then, these pricetly supplications, that the possessor of all the Divine attributes, should, like the down into the bloody field, as an ally of Austrian despotism or Napoleonic hate and ambi tion. What a commentary are they on that ecclesiastical system for which perfect infall-bility is claimed! But, let the combatants pray! HOMICIDE AT KANKAKEE.

Excitement Among the French. On Tuesday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, a renchman named Flagioli, at Kankakee, was Frenchman named Flagioli, at Kankakee, wa killed by a man named Burton, a resident same place, formerly of Kentucky. The cir-cumstances as related to us as follows: Fla-gioli and another Frenchman were cutting grass on Burton's land, in sight of his house, where on Burton's land, in sight of his house, where be was standing. He went down and ordered them to desist from mowing further, to which they complied, but continued to load their wagon with what they had slready cut. Burton forbid their taking any of it away, when a quar-rel arose with Plagioli; bitter words were ex-changed, Flagioli approaching Burton in a vic-leat manner characteristic of his nation; when excited, Burton retreated slowly until he was in the corner between the fence and open gate, when he drew out a jacknife and stuck it into the left side and bowels of Flagioli, cutting him the cert side and bowes or reagont, cutting him badly and severing his bowels in one or two places. Flagioli struck with his fist and Burton again struck with his Jack knife, indicting a slight wound on the shoulder. Flagioli turned and fled. During the quarrel between Flagioli and Burton, the other Frenchman went to get a crube, and was amproaching with it when the scythe, and was approaching with it when the fatal blow was given. Flagioli sank down when

The news soon reached the town, and the greater part of the population being French sympathized deeply with Flagioli. It was said too that this was the fourth man that the destructive Kentuckian had killed. A high e dozen or more infuriated Frenchmen, uptil a mob had guhered, filled with the determination to hang Burton forthwith. He was, however, removed to the jail and protected. The preliminary examination was to come off yesterday. Burton is a farmer of considerable property and general good character, who had lived at Kankakee for three years past. Flagio-li also was an esteemed citizen and has left a complaints or emigrants.

We shall regret the necessity which compels us to believe that the gallant gentlemen who fill places of trust in the American arm at Fort Kearney, are guilty of the inhospital ity and inhumanity with which they are charged by the weary and hungry gold hunters returning from Pike's Peak; and we hope that the storics by which they are assailed will prove to be without foundation, or that it will be demonstrated that the officers in com-mand have not the means of relieving the ne-cessities of the distressed who apply to them dy subjected. Since the truth has become arent that our banks are to suffer deple-t, the alarm lost it should go on so rapidly will be demonstrated that the officers in comthe true that in the fancied discharge of duty, or from an unconquerable churlishness of discosition, he has permitted suffering that he night have alleviated, his epaulettes should be stripped from his shoulders and he should be summarily drummed out of the s disgraced by his presence.

The Illinous Central Road gives notice that it in now prepared to receive payment in full upon its capital stock, as set forth in the circular addressed to the shareholders, on the 8th of March last. The Freeland Roads and all other obligations of the Company except the Construction Bonds, due in 1897, and will be received at par, and ascrued interest in payment of the balance of $40 per share now unpaid. Certificates of full-paid shares will be issued, upon which the Company will pay an interest divided of $50 per share acmi-annually, upon the conditions received in the circular. This payment for full stock is not compulsory, and its advantage is that if gives the stockholder $4 per abare per annum dividend, whereas he now gets no income from his stock. Consequently he realizes, auder the new arrangement, 10 per cent. per cond.

ART AND ARTISTS IN PARIS AND ing from Paris . brother artist in this city,

Tanno V.—Amid all the excitement ponsequent upon the grave events that are now shaking the power of Empires, the people do not forget the attractions of the exhibition of the works of living artists now open at the Palace of Industry. This exhibition is held bleunally, giving the activations. mimic takes. Pathways intersect fresh, green grass, whilst a number of garden seats are found in all directions, for the accommodation of visitors. Here the most important produc-grass, whilst a number of garden seals are found in all directions, for the accommodation of visitors. Here the most important productions of the sculptor's art are placed at contentions intervals, giving one an opportunity of contemplating each work apart from the rest. The whole, viewed from the galleries, presents a most attractive aspect, especially when animated by the crowds of visitors. In short, to us it appeared an artist's paradiae.

The exhibition has been open since the 15th of April, and the number of visitors increased adily—averaging about 12,000—whilst on the day when the galleries are thrown open to the public graits, no less than 40,000 avail themselves of the liberality of the Government Committee. It is said the most humble people of Plorence and Rome have a better and a more educated appreciation of art than the superior classes of other countries, and this is accounted for by the facility given them to enler the public galleries, where the eye becomes unconsclously educated to the beautiful. There is, no doubt, much truth in this observation, and one can but long for the day to arvive when the humbler and working classes of society in our own country can possess equal advantages. The civilizing influence of the Fine Arts is ever attended with that vigorous treatment so peculiar to the French school. The most prominent artists, with the single exception of Ross Bonheur, are each represented by several works.

There are many large canvases delineating battle scenes and public ceremonies—subjects generally well managed by French artists. Troyon stands at the head of the eminent painters in the exhibition; Daubigny Lambinet, Francais and Girardet show the most effective landscapes. But why shall we even mention the names of the prominent artists, with the single exception of Ross Bonheur, are each represented by several works.

There are many large canvases delineating battle scenes and public ceremonies—subjects generally well managed by French artists. Troyon stands at the head of the eminen that they have nobly stood a trying test. The exhibition closes upon the 18th of June. An exhibition of the works of Ary Shaeffer opened upon the 10th inst., but we have not yet had an opportunity of looking over it. A new room, containing the paintings of the earliest Italian schools is soon to be opened at the Louvre. Our countrymen have are busily prosecuting their studies, and all give ovidences of improvement. White returns to America in June with his large canyans of "Washington resigning his commission." Cranch has just returned from Rome, where he has spent a successful winter. In our next we hope to present the Art news of the Eternal City, from a personal observation; but the unsettled state of the country may prevent the prosecution of present plans. Art and Goselp in Rome.

Rosz, May 6, 1869.
I have been many_times to the Palace of the Casars, where Cranch has been painting a pic-ture of a portion of the ruins. The tints are so varying and so beautiful that Granch would often throw down his pen in momentary des-

Palace, conscientious, and at the same time full of sentiment. * * You will have heard, of senument.

perhaps, that an invaluable treasure of art has lately been discovered here—an antique statue of Venus, much like the Venus de Medici, probs superior. It was excavated in a vineyard, ast beyond the walls, and the spot is believed to have been a portion of the celebrated gar-dens of Cæsar. The discovery has caused great excitement here, and the statue has been sold to he Government for thirty thousand dollars, I charles Summer has been here for a fortnight, Orpheus; (his best work, too, I think).

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were here for some weeks, and passed most of their time with the Hawthornes. The Ex-President has much improved in appearance since I last saw him—ten years ago—in Exeter, N. H. * * In the evening (Easter Sunday) I rode to the Piazza to see the illumination. First comes the "silver illumination"—lines of soft, harmonious light traced in patterns are seen all over the edifice, (St. Peters), and the effect is very beautiful. This hasts for a time, when at a signal comes the "golden Illumination," when, before one can count ten, the additional lights blaze out, and facade, dome and colonnades are streaming with light. The change is magical. There are said to be five hundred men engaged in the operation, and the chance is that you do not see one of them. tion, and the chance is that you do not see one of them.

I presume I can write you nothing about the war that you cannot read in American journals. We may expect a movement in Naples the moment Bomba dies, and he is on his degath-bed. Rome is tranquil, and probably will be for the present. Many volunteers have gone to Piedmont, and sympathy with the Liberal party is ve y widely extended. All my sympathies are with the Liberal party, and this time I anticipate its success, and that Austria will lose all hold on Italy. I don't believe that the war will be a long one; Austria is in too bad a condition financially, and moreover has acted so foolishly that she must do her fighting alone. I learn from Florence that all is tranquil there.

WHITLINGS AT "THE PINES."
[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

NEAR QUINCT, May 26, 1839.

THE PRUIT CROP,

As far as this vicinity is concerned, is, I fear, again to be very light. Apple, peach, and all other kinds of fruit trees were in a mass of bloom from April 20th to May 5th, and gave here to all appearances. Noticing that the fruit had not set abundantly in my own orchard, and that those trees that had the most bloom had set the least fruit, I have made inquiry of neighbors and personally examined several orchards, and they will yield but a small crop. Winesaps and Genetins, the surest and hardiest varities here, are, as far as my own orchard is variues here, are, as far as my own orehard is concerned, as bad as any other varieties. From some of my neighbors I hear the same report. Just as the buds were swelled sufficient to show their red tips, the thermometer here on the mornings of the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th days of April, stood at 6 A. M., at 30, 31, 31, 32 respectively, and is undoubtedly the cause of the loss of a greater part of our fruit cron. I have all who have used it prize it highly as food for all kinds of stock.

The rains of the past few days will, unleave it holds up soon, serionsly affect all force roops on low or flat lands, and have already made the roads in the condition they have been for the past twenty months. As road taxes are now due, as soon as the rain "dries up." I suppose the pathmasters all over the Mate will be scratching around, seeing how much time can be "put in," and the least accomplished, and in a majority of cases doing the roads more harm than good. Sach farmer, however, will get his receipt for his road taxes, and is satisfied, in a majority of cases doing the roads satisfied, in a majority of cases not caring a copper whether the road is benefitted thereby or not. The present Road law is not doing us any good. Let it be repealed, and road like other taxes be paid in money, and our roads he worked by contact, under aworn. Commissioners can be for a commissioner after they accept the station. Let the law require they accept the station and permanently finished as far as the money goes. So that every year will add a few rode of a really good and permanent road to each neighborhood.

The "Fines" are growing finely, this showery illusions to it, and collections local saws a sarding its prospects. If a misprebase in of the value of the crop should started by a seject of the papers to report to come on free time to lines, some harm was come of it thus can possibly issue from too frequent referres to it. We are not likely know tee much about the matter, and the content of the to it, and wheat severely. And so in various directions around us.

Up north, we understand there has been no lack of rain, or at least no injury from drought, and everything appears vigorous and healthy. We think it likely that the next week? appears will bring us the good news that the rain which fell here so opportunely, has watered nearly severy corner of the fister, and the reign of the drought has been broken.

Aside from this cause of apprehension the news is good. There are many places in which the wheat has not recovered the winter's freezing, and we think it likely that the paper reports of the wonderful promise of this grain area little enangerated if they are meant as general decangerated if they are meant as general decangerated.

ing, and we think it likely that the paper report of the wonderful promise of this grain area little ranggerated if they are meant as general date of the property of the prop wheat, we same proposely near that seek we considerably. If we have an average crop, with the corn as widely planted and productive as it promises now, we shall be content.

In respect of the corn crop, there is really no difference of opinion anywhere. It is represented by letters, papers, and all other witnesses, to be not only greatly larger, in some sections, as Allen County, quadruple, and in many others, as White River Valley, double, but advancing with the best of prospects, except where the drought is affecting it. That Injury, we have good hope, is gone now, and the next will bring nothing but good news of this staple of Indiana trade.

[From the N. Y. Hensld, May 29.]
About a year since, a man named Patric
Mand, a resident of Newark, New Jersey, wh had considerable trouble with his wife, in cons Mand, a resident of Newark, New Jersey, who had considerable trouble with his wife, in consequence of heir refusal to allow him he control of some five or six thousand dollars, which belonged to them jointly, attempted to take ber life by shooting. He did not succeed in this, however, as the ball only grazed the arm. Mand was arrested and tried before Judge Haines for an attempt at murder. Cortianat Parker, State Attorney, conducted the case on the part of the people. The jury acquitted the prisoner on the ground that they believed him to be insane, and he was accordingly assigned to the lunatic asylum at Trenton. Mand was very violent against the Judge, Mr. Parker, his wife, and Rev. Father Calian, and declared he would murder them all.

ther Callan, and declared he would marder them all.

On Thursday night hast he succeeded in effecting his escape from the asylum by removing the grating from his cell window, and proceeded to Newark, New Jersey, arriving there on Saturday evening, armed with a double barriele pistol, which he had probably obtained hy some means in New York. The warden of the lunatic asylum telegraphed the fact of the escape to Chief of Police Whitney, of Newark, and advised him to keep a sharp look out, as Mand had left a letter behind him, stating that he would not be taken alive, and that he would undoubtedly attempt to carry his threat into execution. Mrs. Mand was notabed, and at once closed her house and proceeded to that of a friends for asfety. Officers were stationed at her house, as well as at stose of Judge Haines, Mr. Parker and Rev. Mr. Callen's; but, not being aware that the lunatic had any other relatives in the city who were liable to be molested, the police was marked to avert the calmitty which follows.

and Rev. Mr. Callen's; onl, not being aware that the lunstic had any other relatives in the city who were liable to be molested, the police were unable to avert the calamity which followed.

Shortly before nine o'clock on Saturday evening, the murdered woman, Mrs. Mary Turbett, wile of Abraham Turbett, grocer, at the corner of Downing and Madison streets, was conversing with a female customer in reference to the scape of her brother, and remarked that she should have no fear of him. She was then in the act of pouring out some beer, and looking towards the door, exclaimed, "There he is now," and on the instant two reports of firearms were heard in quick succession, the concussion of which extinguished the camphene lamp. The woman who was in the place at the time with her back to the door, did not see the assassin, but supposing herself to be shot, rushed out of the place, when lights were procured, a moment afterwards, Mrs. Turbett was found lying behind the counter dead. A subsequent examination showed that one ball entered the right breast and the other had pierced the heart causing death without an exclamation from the victim.

The resert of the murder soon spread over the the victim.

The report of the murder soon spread over the city, and all necessary steps were taken to secure the murderer before he should have further cure the murderer before he should have ansured opportunity to carry his designs into execution He was finally captured in Commerce street and securely lodged at police headquarters. Yester day morning a double harreled pistol was found in a yard in the vicinity where the murder was committed, and one one of the balls was found to fit it, the creases in the end corresponding to those in the barrel of the weapon. A Lively Letter from Genon.

Acurate descriptions of Italy, by tourists who are now actually in that country, possess anassal interest at present. The following letter, which we have permission to print, was written by a Philadelphia lady, now in Genoa. GENOA, May 1, 1800.

Tuscany:

Dear :

The war news was so threatening that we agreed to abandon the Venice trip and at last left Rome, having engaged passage by steamer from Civita Vecchia to Leghorn with the refusal of our berbhs to that place, intending to learn at Leghorn the real state of the country and act accordingly. At Civita Vecchia we learned that Tuscany was in such a state of excitement that it would not be pleasant traveling there, so we continued on. Yeaterday we arrived off Leghorn, and behold! the Tuscan custom house officers boarded us under the Sardinian colors. The Duke had been requested to abdicate—had considered and consented too late. He was obliged to fly. At four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon the officers and soldiers in Florence were rushing about embracing and kissing; the stores were [closed and the enthusiastic skopkespers engaged in ornamenting themselves and friends with the colors of Sardinia. Ladies drove in the casino dressed in magnificent silks of three lines, with hats and parasols, in uniform. At Leghorn I went on shore to see what was going on, and everybody and everything was decorated with green, red and white. Yesterday, while we were still in port, there was a great excitement. A steamer was taking volunteers on board, and the crowd on her decks were shouting in answer to the cheers of their countrymen on the quays. Here, in Genoa, we have an opportunity that few persons possess. The city is full of troops. The French are arriving from all directions—by land over Mount Cennis, and by water from Toulon and Algeria. To-day I saw four regiments march on to the ground and pitch their tents. At every turn oue meets companies of Zouaves—frilling, easing, lounging and annoking. I never in my life saw such gaunt, grim, dark faces as those of the Zouaves from Algiers——the "original" African regiment. It is impossible not to catch the excitement of the hour.

Pann, May 12, 1895.

The Emperor made his departure on Tuesday, the occasion of no inconsiderable paradic. His escort to the depot was a numerous if not as enthusiastic as he might expect if he were returning with his lauresles, which he is but just setting out in search of. The Empress, who rode in the carriage with him, seemed to be very much overcome by the prospect of their separation. She wiped her eyes constantly, and the veins of her forchead were represented, by a sympathetic observer of her own sex, to be unusually swollen by her struggle to suppress her grief. Poor thing; she may have more cause to regret his absence from Paris than she yet knows of. Some two hundred blouses came arm-in-arm down the street from the depot immediately after his departure, singing the Marsellaiss, which has been interducted here for some years; and yesterday morning I heard of an omnibus being stopped and two horses taken out of it by the police, without any explanation or apparent provocation. Liberty songs are also sold on the Boulevards quite freely, This morning two legions of the National Gaards were paraded through the principal structs, to remind the people, perhaps, that they are not unprotected.

instructions of Mr. McLane, demanded of Mira-mon an explanation in regard to the assassina-tion of the Americans at Tambaya, Miramon re-plied that he no longer recognised. Black as the American Consul at the City of Mexica, and as McLane had recognized the Juares government, he would hereafter hold no communication with him. Mr. Black's letter was returned. He therefore, left the city, after intrusting the American archives to the cure of the Ecuador Legation.

THE WHEAT CROP IX SANGARON.—We hear a good deal of complaint of obestor chess among the wheat in Buffalo Heart precinct, and it is feared the cril will be found to be general throughout the county. It is only discovered when the whea is heading out. Many fields that were looked upon as a sure crop will not, we are told, be worth cutting. It would be well in all such cases to put in the plow at once, and replace the worthless crop with corn, potatoes, or some thing equally useful.—Illinois Journal. ce Nos. 142 and 144 South Wastreet, Chicago, Illinois.

Death from Fright.

A negro man belonging to Dr. Sanders, of Holly Springs, Dallas county, we understand, was frightened to death by one of Mabie's clephants, week before last. The circumstances as we learned them, were these: After the performance of the company at Holly Springs, the elephants were removed a short distance from the pavilion and confined in the bushes, to await the time of starting to the next place of exhibition; the negro, not knowing they were there, was passing near by, when one of them passed his trunk around the body of the boy, drawing him gently toward's his elephantship. The negro secing the colossal proportions of the animal, which the darkness of the night no doubt, greatly magnified, made a herculean effort, and succeeded in eacening from the disagreeable embrace; he ran a short distance and fell to the ground, arouning the whole neighborhood with his cries; being unable to-rise, he was taken up and carried to the hones, where he soon after died, the Doctors say from no other cause than fright.—Ounchia (La.) Herald.

Stampede of Americans from Rome. WALL PAPER. 70 -- LAKE STREET -- 70 At Very Low Prices. PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE. NO. 70....LAKE STREET.....NO. 70 Window Shades. Stampede of Americans from Rome.

The New York Tribuse publishes an extract from a private letter from Rome, dated April 28, which says that "our countrymen and other strangers adjourning temporarily in Rome, have become very much excited and alarmed by the news of the war, and are scampering away as fast as they can. The Grimells went on April 25; Mr. Harry Stone on the 26th; and ex-President Pierce cut and ran on the second day of Holy Week. He appeared at St. Peter's on Sunday, and although seats were secured for the ex-King of Prussia, the ex-Queets of Spain, the diplomatic corps and other distinguished strangers, there was none for the ex-President; and no one paid him the least attention except the courier of Mr. Wm. Beach Lawrence, who ancoceded in getting him a place homewhere among the crowd. It is thought there must have been an intention in this discourtesy to Gen. Pierce; and this view is rather confirmed by the fact that when Mr. Yan Buren and Mr. Fillmore were in Rome unusual civilities were shown to them." AT MANUFACTURER'S PRICES

The Milwaukee and La Crossee Company, or the corporation that was that company, has four boards of discelors. Our Milwaukee bretheren have had a happy time in "keeping the track" of the various movements of the different parties claiming the control, and we are not sure but some of them have "switched off" and missed a train or two. The c. w Democrathas made a desperate effort to keep up, and thus states the case:

"The old board, of which Mr. Stanton is president, and which refuses to recognize any of the new ones. Board No. 2, of which Newcomb Cleveland is president, but the majority of which are not stockholders. Board No. 3, of which Daniel Wells, Jr., is President, and was elected by 500 votes. Her hand, too, is as pet fect as her feet and head—and throughout shis, as the French phrases have it, been guide head changes, bins hability lower tows the reproved the houlders, or pinned to the back of her head the air, the manner, the grace, the whole towner, makes her, in my eye, the best dressed the finest show-off woman that I have ever, in any country, seen in the street. Paris, the head-quarters of fashion and elegance, certainly turns out no such belies. Now add to this fan, ever in motion, and that does duty this mere insminate matter I suppose could neve be made to do—a fan that acts the bonnet, the parasol, and the voil beside—a fan that tele graphs, and signalizes, that chatters, and ever livite—a fan that taks too, and that means more instituted to see as live wo man for months.

M. D. Ogden, developed to me by lady tongue, I could gues it, nay read it, in the comment shops all about Those long tresses there in the window, whare they for? For sale, of course. Those puffi the provided it, in the commer shops all about Those long tresses there in the window, wha are they for? For sale, of course. Those puffis puffis, puffis, puffis, what mean they? For they are not things of air. Those braids, those ringlets those preparations of German wool? Ah now I read the very windows of the Cadix shops, what mean those heads of heair, so abundant, redundant. I rever before saw on heads of women the like! But what thus keep "heads" thus composed so perfect in their place, despite the air, the rude, rough winds even, that disturb them not. No pomade has the power, no castor oil, with which our ladies (horsen reference) sometimes besmear their hair, no. The winte of eggs sometimes is used, sometimes glue or glycerine, but oftener a decotion of linseed boiled will, to istarch and stiffen, so that the head is not only painted but glazed! O, woman, thou't a charming chest!

The street turn-out of a Cadiz lady, you see thus, is troublesome, even if she wears no bonnet, and has no hows, or ribbons upon it, nor flowers, nor lace. To do up the head thus, is a daily cost, and in the end, therefore, costs more than the Broadway bonnet. But the other turn out of the Cadiz lady is just as dear as the head. Her veil is of Seville, or Barcelonn lace, and costs from $75 to $110. Her mantilla, too, is of lace, or evelvel interwoven, the work of Saville, and the cost may vary from $30 to $100 and more.—The pins that connect her vail with her hair, must be precious, and therefore dear. Her street robe is always of black, and of the finest and costilest black silk. Her shoes and glores are the most rederebe that the artists of Cadiz can produce. I say nothing of her fan, it may be of any price. This, now, is fashion in the jumping-off place of Spain—"the end of the world." Refer to Mesers, B. K.
